Peritoneal Dialysis - Achieving Popularity
through Proficiency

Peritoneal dialysis has become an important treatment modality for people with end-stage kidney disease across the world. Many countries in Asia, in particular those in Southeast Asia, have one of the highest incidences in end-stage kidney diseases in the world and the growth of peritoneal dialysis has been significant in this region. Moreover, Asia is a potpourri of cultures, healthcare infrastructure and resources and economies, with variability in peritoneal dialysis practices and outcomes. Therefore, an ISPD meeting in Asia promises to be both scientifically stimulating and relevant to patients, physicians and other healthcare professionals, and policy makers.

Singapore, located in the heart of Asia, is easily accessible to over four billion people within a 7 hour flight radius, making Singapore the city of choice to host the ISPD 2022 conference.

The congress will feature renowned clinicians from all over the world, who will share, discuss and debate new developments and topics that will impact the practice and delivery of peritoneal dialysis. This congress will also be an excellent opportunity for networking, renewing old ties and making new friends, in a country of diverse cuisine, cultures and ethnicities. ISPD welcomes everyone to the vibrant city of Singapore in 2022!
